

IT KICKED.

The Gun Loaded for Eisiminger
Knocks Rick Sideways.

THE ATTEMPT FUTILE.

To Blacken a Good Man's Name.

The Ricksecker-Eisiminger case was brought before Judge Campbell last Saturday afternoon, and probably attracted more attention than any case ever held in that court, owing to the good character of the defendant and his standing as a highly respected citizen.

D. Lusk and Walter Thompson were subpoenaed as witnesses by the state and they with Ricksecker furnished fun for the crowd.

On the stand Ricksecker swore that he was afraid of Eisiminger when drunk; that Mr. Morrison of this city had told him that Mr. Eisiminger was a drunkard, and that he took four men to hold him. When asked if he ever saw Mr. Eisiminger drunk replied that all he knew about it was from what he heard from Mr. Morrison.

Lusk's testimony was that he had tried to act in that way to save Ricksecker's life by telling him what he heard Eisiminger say.

Thompson, verified what Lusk had said, in fact, his testimony was so much the same as Lusk's that it looked very much as if it came from the same piece of goods.

Mr. Eisiminger was put on the stand and here is where the brilliant work of our county attorney came in. He tried to make Eisiminger a habitual drunkard, in fact, a desperado. He inquired into his past life, wanted to know how many people he had threatened to kill before, how many glasses of beer he had ever drunk, and wanted to know if it was true that when a boy that he did punch a man's face.

After being met with answers that knocked the wind out of him, the county attorney said he was through with him.

Then the fun began.

The defence represented by Attorneys Williams and Cannell, called for Mr. Morrison, who denied everything that Ricksecker had sworn to: that he had known Mr. Eisiminger for years and never saw him drunk, completely paralyzing the prosecution.

Mr. Z. W. Whinery, Col. Henry Hartford, Abe Seigrist, Joseph Langlois, L. T. Bostick, E. A. Jones and Mr. Hypp, a brother-in-law of Ricksecker, all testified to the good character of Mr. Eisiminger.

All of them had known him personally from 5 to 17 years, had seen him on an average of once a week during that time and none of them had ever seen him drunk. This unexpected move by the defendant's attorneys in proving Mr. Eisiminger, a good citizen by men of Mr. Fall's and Ricksecker's party entirely finished those two worthies. While the attorneys rested the case Judge Campbell announced the discharge of Mr. Eisiminger on the ground of insufficient evidence which was met with the hearty approval of the crowded court room.

He estimates the crop at 7,406,820 bushels at an average of 30 bushels per acre. The Silver Knight.

We are in receipt of a copy of Senator Stewart's new paper the Silver Knight. It is a nine column 4 page paper and is well edited. While we have always been somewhat prejudiced against Senator Stewart as being of the opinion that his advocacy of the populist doctrine extended only to the free coinage of silver, we are happy to state that the able manner in which he handles the living questions of the hour leads us to believe that the "old man" is all right in the main.

Little Bythello Payne.

The sweet little golden haired Bythello, only surviving child of Mr. E. B. Payne, of the Hutchinson Bindery died last Friday afternoon of pneumonia fever. She had been indisposed for several days, but no one had an idea of the illness proving fatal.

The remains were laid to rest by the side of its mother in the East Side cemetery Sunday afternoon. Every mark of respect and love possible was shown by friends of the once happy family as; a visit to the cemetery later in the day found her little grave entirely covered with flowers.

Mr. Payne one year ago was the possessor of a happy wife and two children. The younger died early in the winter and was shortly followed by its mother leaving only little Bythello to comfort the sorrowing father.

The sympathy of the entire community goes out to Mr. Payne in this the saddest hour of his life.

The Kansas A. B. T. A.

We are informed by J. B. Culbertson president of the Kansas Grand Order of the Anti-Horse Thiel Association, that the next state meeting of the above well-known order will be held in Hutchinson the third Wednesday in next October. An effort will be made prior to that time to secure among the law abiding people of Hutchinson a good local organization. A special feature of the next state meeting will be to have as many of the pioneers of the order present as possible. Perry McKee, of Sterling, promises the presence of his father Major McKee, of northeast Missouri, who was one of the founders of the order more than thirty years ago. There are two of the founders of the order originally from the same section of country are now honored citizens of Reno county, B. P. Hansen, of Arlington and C. W. Gray of Langdon.

The order was originally intended to suppress species of lawlessness which its name indicates in the community which gave it birth. But in becoming a national institution as it has grown to be it has outgrown its original purpose and become one of the great fraternal organizations as well as a conservator of law and order.

Cosmopolitan.

A complete and immediate revolution of transportation methods, involving a reduction of freight charges on grain from the west to New York of from 50 to 60 per cent., is what is predicted in the November Cosmopolitan. The plan proposes using light and inexpensive corrugated iron cylinders, hung on a slight rail supported on poles from a cross-rail—the whole system involving an expense of not more than fifteen hundred dollars a mile for construction. The rolling stock is equally simple and comparatively inexpensive. Continuous lines of cylinders, moving with an interval to speak of, would carry more grain in a day than a quadruple track railway. This would constitute a sort of grain-pipe line. The Cosmopolitan also points out the probable abolition of street-cars before the coming horseless carriage, which can be operated by a boy on asphalt pavements at a total expense for labor, oil, and interest, of not more than one dollar a day.
